Dina Khader, MS, RD, CDN, is a registered dietitian and integrative nutrition consultant with over 27 years of experience. Trained in both eastern and western philosophies, Dina Khader has the clinical background, training and experience to provide her clients with the most effective, cutting edge nutritional guidance. Dina holds an MS in Nutrition from New York Medical College. She works closely with Helena Baranova, MD, of the European Institute of Personalized Prevention specializing in state-of-the-art genetics research. Dina is also a certified QRA (quantum reflex analysis) practitioner following the Marshall Protocol. She is the first nutritionist to be certified in an advanced training for TBI (Traumatic Brain Injury) by the Millennium-WAF TBI Project taught by Dr. Mark Gordon of the Millennium Health Center in California. Dina is the author of The Food Combining/Blood Type Diet Solution and was a major contributor to Peter D’Adamo’s book Eat Right for Your Type. Dina is a frequently sought-after lecturer, author, and expert commentator for radio, television, and print media.

Kenneth Bock, MD, FAAP, FACN, CNS, received his MD with honors from the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry in 1979. Dr. Bock is the founder of Bock Integrative Medicine in Red Hook, NY, and has been a pioneer and leader in the field of integrative medicine for over three decades. Dr. Bock is a popular national and international speaker at major medical conferences and has appeared on various radio and television shows. He is a faculty member of the Institute for Functional Medicine (IFM) and taught in its Advanced Detox Module. Dr. Bock is the co-author of The Road to Immunity and Natural Re-lief for Your Child’s Asthma. His latest book, Healing the New Childhood Epidemics: Autism, ADHD, Asthma, and Allergies, has received international acclaim. Dr. Bock is an esteemed member of the XYMOGEN Board of Advisors.

Tamie Dempsey, ABIHM, MD, is a Board Certified Internist and a Diplomat of the American Board of Integrative Holistic Medicine. She received her MD degree from the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine and her BS degree, with honors from Cornell University. After completing her primary care residency at New York University, she served as an attending physician at a large multi-specialty medical practice in White Plains, NY, before she founded her own practice, Armonk Integrative Medicine, in 2011. Dr. Dempsey combines primary care treatment and integrative medicine with particular focus on thyroid dysfunction, autoimmune disease, hormonal imbalances, vitamin deficiencies, food sensitivities, and Lyme Disease.

Isadora Guggenheim, ND, RN, is a licensed naturopathic physician and registered nurse who specializes in reversing chronic disease patterns. She is the lead nurse for a private practice in New York State where she administers ozone therapies, gives holistic health consultations, and offers massage therapy. Dr. Guggenheim is board-certified in environmental medicine, is a certified nutritionist, and has completed training in cancer care and autoimmune conditions. She firmly believes in XYMOGEN’s formulas because she has had multiple clinical successes with them. Dr. Guggenheim writes a daily medical blog.

Geri Brewster, RDN, MPH, CDN, has been a functional nutritional practitioner for over three decades, maintaining practices in Mt. Kisco, NY, and New York City. She earned her BS degree in human nutrition and foods from Virginia Tech, where she graduated summa cum laude, and her MS degree in public health from New York Medical College, where she received the Sirach Award for Outstanding Achievement in the area of public health. Among many other honors, Geri was awarded the 2013 Excellence in Practice Award by Dietitians in Integrative and Functional Medicine (DIFM). She is the former director of nutrition at the Atkins Center for Complementary Medicine in NYC and currently assists families in the implementation of the modified Atkins diet for seizure control. She has served as an advocate with the Better School Food movement and is currently a volunteer with her local National Autism Association group and Autism One. She was an adjunct professor for the University of Bridgeport’s master’s in nutrition program. Geri is a contributor to a number of publications, has been quoted in numerous newspaper and magazine articles, and has made many radio and TV appearances.
